Fur trade protest at city store

ANIMAL rights campaigners stepped up their war against the fur trade when they picketed the fur department of Debenhams's store on Nottingham's Long Row on Saturday.

A spokesman for Nottingham Animal Rights said the group collected 400 signatures on a petition and many people pledged to boycott the store.

"The campaigners then entered the store in an attempt to put the views of the public to the management but the manager seemed unconcerned by the facts presented relating to the cruelty inherent in the wild trapping and factory farming of fur animals," he said.

"Although obviously concerned by the weight of public outrage displayed to the store, he refused to make a comment.

The Nottingham store declined to comment on the demonstrations and Debenhams's head office in London also refused to say anything on the matter.

"We put to him that many other Debenhams stores had removed their fur departments but when pressed as to whether the current clearance sale was in fact a closing down sale, he refused to comment."

Having pledged that the campaign would continue "until such time" that the fur department was closed.

NOTTINGHAM ANIMAL RIGHTS CONFEDERATION

180 Mansfield Road, Nottingham. NG1 3HU. (0602) 585666

Nottingham Animal Rights Confederation meets on the last Sunday of each month, at 7.30pm, upstairs at The Narrow Boat, Canal Street, Nottingham to co-ordinate Animal Rights campaigns in the area. There is no formal membership, meetings and other activities being open to all those using non-violent methods to oppose the abuse of animals.

As the agendas for the meetings contain much valuable information they are also published as a newsletter. You are urged to follow up as many of the campaigns as possible. Further information may be available from the various contacts whose details are inside the back page, or at our St. Peters Gate stall on Saturdays, (help always welcome too).

NEWSLETTER SUBSCRIPTION

A scheme has just been launched to encourage supporters to subscribe to this newsletter. Many dedicated people have helped the ARC over the years, but loose touch if the Sunday evening meetings become inconvenient. ALL SUPPORTERS are therefore urged to subscribe so that the ARC will be better able to keep everyone informed. A subscription form should be enclosed, but if not please send £3 waged / £2 low or unwaged / £1 under 16yrs.

NEWS and ACTION

to the organisers of recent benefit events. An enjoyable evening at The Garage, raising funds for the ARC was closely followed by a hot and crowded one at The Yorker. Phew! This one really packed them in. As a result £100 was raised for Nottingham's Hunt Saboteurs and another £100 for Veggies campaign against McDonalds. MANY THANKS to the organisers and to all the bands that supported these events.

It is interesting to note that if McDonalds had never chosen to threaten legal action against Veggies, they would have had the resources to produce only a few thousand leaflets. Now, thanks to public support enough has been raised to print 30,000 ! Any group or individual able to help distribute them - please get in touch.

DEMONSTRATIONS

As you will see on the events page the season for demos is starting up again. Several years ago the ARC regularly filled a coach for such events. However times change, and recently valuable funds have been lost on half empty trips. If you can arrange transport to an event please get in touch. Help is needed to work to fill the seats when transport is arranged. Also Veggies provide catering support at many of the events, and can usually offer a few lifts.

WORLD DAY FOR LABORATORY ANIMALS

Now is the time to get in touch if you can arrange or support a trip to Brighton on April 23rd. There will be a March of Commemoration followed by a rally on the sea front. A social evening follows, with vegan refreshments, and a Vigil of Sympathy and Resolution until dawn.

PREVENT UNWANTED PETS

In the last year P.U.P. have helped to pay for 88 cats and dogs to be neutered. They have a growing waiting list, and huge bills to pay to vets. 3,387 dogs and 746 cats were destroyed in Nottingham alone in 1986. PLEASE TURN OUT for the collections listed in the diary, and help reduce the awful suffering that stray and unwanted animals go through.

ALSO

P.U.P. wish to give a small gift to two pensioners who have been especially dedicated to helping animals for many years, but P.U.P. do not wish it to come from donated funds. If you can offer a little extra please sent it c/o the ARC.

DOGS & CATS GO VEGETARIAN !

Please send an S.A.E. for details of "a revolutionary way to feed pets".

A new campaign is to be launched at the end of March. Based on the NAVS campaign to alert the public to the dangers of disease escaping from vivisection labs, with evidence that Aids was in fact created in this way, the Leicester campaign also opposes the proposed destruction of much needed housing to extend labs at the local University. It is hoped that Nottingham will give full support, and a speaker from the campaign has been invited to the March 28th meeting of the ARC. See diary for contact details.

ANIMAL AID SPONSORED WALK

It is hoped that walks will be held all around the country on July 24th. Help is needed now to organise a route, walkers, sponsors, publicity etc.

Animal Aid supporters please get in touch.

RSPCA MEMBERS WATCHDOG

The RSPCA has excellent policies on hunting, the fur trade, factory farming etc, but seems sometimes to lack the will to follow these through at grass roots level. Some local branches that do try to campaign actively find resources stretched by a requirement to send a quota (of funds) to HQ.

This Members Watchdog is not calling for a 'hurricane of extremism' but a 'wind of change'. They aim to ensure that RSPCA branches and individual members are treated justly and to monitor the RSPCA's work in relation to its policies. The views and/or support of RSPCA members is welcomed.

Write to: 44 Kingsley Road, Horley, Surrey. RH6 8RH.

RSPCA ACTION LINE

As an indication of the valuable work of the RSPCA this ACTION LINE column from the Spring Issue of RSPCA TODAY indicates some of the current issues of concern. For full details follow the references in the magazine (available in the Animal Rights Library at the Rainbow Centre, or send an S.A.E. for photocopies).

Protection of Animals (Amendments) Bill
(See 'In Parliament' page 8, this issue)
The main provision of this Bill is to allow disqualification of a person from keeping any animal on a first conviction for cruelty. Write to your MP asking him to support this Bill.

Genetic Engineering
(See pages 3 and 19, this issue)
The RSPCA is concerned at the development of research into genetic engineering in farm animals. Write to the Home Secretary to voice your concern about the implications of this research in animal welfare terms. The Right Hon Douglas Hurd, MP, The Home Office, 50 Queen Anne's Gate, London SW1H 9AT.

Tethered Horses
The RSPCA is calling for the introduction of the new statutory offence of 'Cruelly Tethering a Horse'. Write to your MP asking him to support this measure in Parliament.

Tail Docking of Dogs
To try and ensure that Britain signs the European Pet Animal Convention, including the section that outlaws the cruel and unnecessary practice of tail docking of dogs, write to your MP.

Use of Primates in Research
(See page 27, this issue)
The RSPCA welcomes the changes agreed by the Home Secretary but is disappointed that several other measures have not been adopted. Write to the Home Secretary at the address above asking him to adopt all the measures laid out on page 27.

Intensive Farming Systems
(See pages 23 and 29, this issue)
The consequences of a poorly maintained intensive system can be seen on page 23. The proof that alternative, humane, systems can be profitable can be seen on page 29. To protest about intensive farming systems, write to your MP and Euro-MP.

Aintree
(See Autumn 1987 issue)
With the Grand National due to be run at Aintree on 9th April, now is the time to make your protest about the dangerous Becher's Brook fence. The RSPCA is asking for changes on the landing side of this notorious fence that would make it much safer for both horses and riders. Show your support for this change by writing to: The Jockey Club, 42 Portman Square, London W1H 0EN and The Clerk of the Course, Aintree Racecourse, Liverpool, Merseyside.

Early Day Motions
(See 'In Parliament' page 8, this issue)
Several Early Day Motions (EDMs) that deal with animal welfare issues have been tabled in Parliament. Recent additions include the complete banning of fur products from countries that still use the steel-jaw leg-hold trap, measures to deter the purchasing of domestic pets as Christmas presents, and the outlawing of hunting deer with packs of dogs. Write to your MP asking him to sign these and other relevant EDMs.

VEGGIES NEWS

MARCH '88

Regular readers will know that in October 1987 Veggies Ltd, of Nottingham, received threats of libel action over allegations made in the leaflet 'What's Wrong With McDonald's'.

The leaflet had said that McDonalds Restaurants were implicated in the destruction of rain-forests for the production of cheap beef, and also implied that they were responsible for the torture or murder of animals. McDonalds solicitors demanded that Veggies state that they were "satisfied that there is no truth whatsoever in these statements" and to "apologise to McDonalds Hamburgers Ltd for any embarrassment caused." In November a strict time limit of 14 days was given to reply.

Following preliminary investigations, Veggies prepared a response conceding that specific evidence of direct connection between McDonald's and the destruction of rain-forests had not been found. However the practice in the United States of labelling imported beef as 'US Beef', and McDonalds role in creating a worldwide demand for beef, meant that Veggies were unable to make a full retraction in the terms demanded.

Faced with the possibility of meeting McDonalds in the High Court, Veggies were also willing to concede that "the word 'murder' is not yet widely used in connection with the killing of animals, although by our standard this is indeed the case".

RONALD

REGGIE
THE VEGGIE?

Together with this response, McD's solicitors were sent details of the voluntary and charitable nature of Veggies work. Their attitude now changed. They offered to discuss a 'mutually acceptable variation' of the required correction and invited Veggies solicitor to discuss the matter with them.

As a result they are willing to consider an apology on Veggies terms, on condition that, whilst conceding lack of specific evidence on the rain-forest issue, details of the continuing doubt are not given. They also seem willing to accept Veggies position on the 'murder' of animals, so long as the word 'torture' is also retracted, whilst still allowing a statement to be made that Veggies are unable to excuse the suffering, cruelty and waste of life caused by the production of beef burgers.

Veggies suggest revising the 'What's Wrong With McDonalds' leaflet to change the words 'torture and murder' to 'slaughtering and butchering' and to redraft the rainforest section. Supporters are encouraged to give their views as to whether settlement on these terms is acceptable.

Please send an S.A.E. for the revised leaflet 'Whats Wrong With McDonalds' >

VEGGIES LIBRARY

A library is being co-ordinated by Veggies going under various subject headings eg, Animal Rights, Environment, Nutrition etc.

Borrowing facilities are open to all; simply contact Veggies through the Rainbow Centre (tel. 585666), at the Clinton St. stall, at a Notts ARC meeting (last Sunday of every month at The Narrowboat pub 7.30 pm) or at one of the many events at which Veggies caters.

There will be a nominal borrowing fee of 10p per book per week.

We would be grateful to anyone wishing to lend/donate books so that they could reach a wider audience.

Big stores ban pork linked to cancer scare drug

by David Brown Agriculture Correspondent

A DRUG widely used by farmers in Britain to treat pigs has been linked with cancer and birth defects among laboratory animals in the United States.

While government experts wait to study evidence from America, stores, including Waitrose and Marks and Spencer, have already acted by insisting that the farmers who supply them do not add antibiotics to their pig-feed as a routine. Farmers who do not comply risk losing valuable contracts.

A spokesman for Waitrose said: "We appreciate and understand the use of antibiotics administered under veterinary supervision or during the weaning period.

"Our main concern is the use of antibiotic additives during the main rearing and finishing stages. We are committed to selling foods which are wholesome, safe and as natural as possible."

There are fears that people could be harmed by eating pork and bacon which contain residues of the antibiotic sulphadimidine.

Many farmers in America have voluntarily agreed to stop using it on their pigs for 60 days while the evidence is examined by the American Food and Drugs Administration.

The Ministry of Agriculture, which has admitted that traces of sulphadimidine were "frequently detected" in British pig kidneys during recent tests by its food surveillance group, is worried that some farmers are not waiting long enough after treating their pigs before sending them to slaughter.

A spokesman said yesterday that the ministry was aware of the situation in America and was seeking a copy of the FDA report.

He said: "Meantime, it is important that all farmers observe the recommended 15 days withdrawal period before sending treated animals for slaughter."

This period is for antibiotics to work their way out of an animal's system. It is a voluntary code of practice, not a legal requirement.

Sulphadimidine is used to treat, or prevent, respiratory and other ailments in pigs and can only be used with veterinary approval. It can be administered in various ways. It is often included in animals' feed rations.

The cancer fear, which has hit pork sales in America, has revived criticisms of the widespread use of antibiotics in animal food.

Many antibiotics are used not only as medicines but to help produce leaner pork and bacon.

Supermarkets in Britain are so concerned about antibiotics as consumers are demanding "additive-free" food that they are using their mighty purchasing power to put pressure on their suppliers.

There are reports that some supermarkets have threatened to find alternative sources of meat abroad if British farmers do not comply.

There is already one marketing scheme in France which guarantees "natural" chickens free of additives and antibiotics.

The scare could hardly come at a worse time for British pig farmers, many of whom face bankruptcy in the face of competition from other EEC countries which has been distorted at their expense by the Common Market's exchange rates for farm produce.

Cash aid for private meat storage has just been introduced to help them.

Animal food compounders estimate that if all antibiotics were removed from their products it would increase farmers' own production costs.

It is estimated that this could add up to 2p per lb to the price of pork and bacon in the shops.

REGIONAL CO-ORDINATION

This newsletter hopes to co-ordinate Animal Rights activities throughout Notts, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire and Leicestershire. Groups in these areas (and elsewhere) are invited to send dates and details to be publicised in the Diary of Events, and to subscribe to the newsletter to find out what everyone else is doing. Mutual support and co-operation will help to build a strong local movement against animal abuse. Group Subscription £2 or £3 please.

JOIN US IN 'WORKING TOGETHER FOR THE ANIMALS'

All the news and action detailed in this newsletter does not happen by itself. Many dedicated people give their time organising, writing, leafletting, publicising, raising funds, contacting the press ...

Nottingham Animal Rights Confederation has no membership or staff - it is YOU and others who, like you, wish to help the animals.

As well as the monthly public meetings, the ARC holds a smaller meeting for local contacts, committee members and others to plan the main meeting, this newsletter and other activities. If you have special ideas, skills or energies to contribute please come along on Wednesday 23rd March, 7.30 at the Rainbow Centre.

INFORMATION LEAFLET

NOTTINGHAM ANIMAL RIGHTS CONFEDERATION

180 Mansfield Road, Nottingham. NG1 3HU.

Dear Friend,

We are writing to you as we know that you are interested in helping in the fight against animal abuse.

Nottingham Animal Rights Confederation was formed over five years ago to help to co-ordinate the work of the various animal rights, animal welfare and environmental campaign groups in the area. Each month there is a meeting, where supporters of the following groups (and more) are usually present:

- Animal Aid
- Cats Protection League
- Compassion in World Farming
- Dr Hadwen Trust for Humane Research
- Friends of the Earth
- Greenpeace
- Hunt Saboteurs
- League Against Cruel Sports
- Lynx (the fur action group)
- Prevent Unwanted Pets
- Sea Shepherd
- Student animal rights groups
- Vegetarian and Vegan Society
- Veggies Catering Campaign

The meetings are held on the last Sunday of each month upstairs at The Narrow Boat on Canal Street, Nottingham, starting at 7.30pm. Often there is a guest speaker, or the showing of an animal rights/welfare video. There is a small library of relevant books and videos. Refreshments are available, with vegetarian / vegan food by 'Veggies'.

A monthly newsletter has now become well established, and is produced just before each monthly meeting. As well as containing details of the meetings, it has a comprehensive diary of forthcoming local and national events.

These dates include :

- Public Information Stalls
- Fundraising for animal groups
- Demonstrations and pickets
- Meetings, speakers and film shows
- Social events and
- Trips to support the activities of other groups elsewhere.

The newsletter also contains news of current campaigns and how to support them, press reports, the contact details of many local groups and other ideas for helping the cause. It is also hoped to develop the newsletter as a forum for co-ordination of the activities of animal rights groups throughout Nottinghamshire and the surrounding region.

There is no formal membership of the A.R.C., the meetings and other events being open to all those supporting non-violent methods to oppose the abuse of animals.

However as the newsletters contain so much valuable and current information we urge you to take advantage of our subscription service. This will enable you to follow up many of the campaigns, even if you are unable to attend all the meetings.

As well as keeping you informed of events and campaigns, we will send details of other local initiatives. These include the Animal Rights Centre at 180 Mansfield Road, our regular campaign and information stalls, the book and video libraries and magazine exchange, the guide to Vegetarian Nottingham and more.

Simply fill in the coupon, fold as shown, fix a stamp and return the entire leaflet to us. (We will send you another with your first newsletter).
